

ABGAL Spa Foam Cover Fitting Instructions

What You'll Need

This cover is designed to sit inside the spa, on the water. To fit it you'll need a pair of large, sharp scissors or knife, a biro or sharp pencil, permanent marker and someone to assist.

Fitting Your Spa Foam Cover

1. Check the spa water level is at the normal operating water level.
2. Open the plastic drop sheet supplied with your cover - you'll use this to make a template.
3. Lay the sheet on top of your spa, ensuring it sits flat on the water. You may like to tape it into position so that it doesn't move. Trace a line (with permanent marker) around the perimeter, where the water meets the wall of the spa. This will form the template for the new cover.
4. Lay the foam panels together, so they are properly aligned and there are no gaps. Place the plastic cutting template on top.
5. Carefully trace over the template firmly with a biro or sharp pencil to transfer the pattern onto the foam, ensuring the template does not shift.

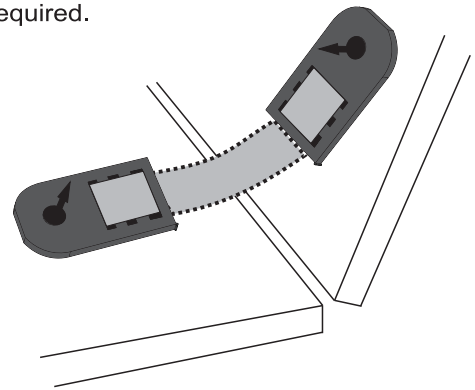

6. Using scissors or a knife, cut along the line of the template. If using a knife, take care not to damage anything underneath the cover.

Some spas have complicated shaping - do not worry if you have some small gaps around the edges as you do not need a perfect seal.

7. If you have a 10mm foam cover, you will need to join the panels using the hinge clips supplied. (Below).

A. Push the pointed spike through the cover.

B. Push the clip with strap attached straight onto the spike from the other side until it 'locks' in. You can trim the excess length off the spike if required.

Maximising the Life of Your Spa Foam Cover

- Do not walk, jump, sit or lie on the Spa Cover at any time.
- Do not drag or slide the cover when moving it. Instead, always lift and carry the cover.
- Store the cover away from rough or abrasive surfaces as these will wear and damage it. Rinse before storing for long periods.
- Clean your cover using a mild soap detergent and rinse well after cleaning. Do not scrub with harsh brushes or scourers.
- Do not leave your Spa Cover in direct sunlight when it is not in use, even for short periods of time!
- Do not allow chemical levels to exceed normal readings on test kit.

Spa Foam Cover Pro-Rata Warranty

Your ABGAL Spa Foam Cover is warranted against faulty workmanship and materials for a 12 month pro-rata period from the date of purchase. In the unlikely event that a fault appears during this time, please return the cover, along with a copy of your receipt to ABGAL. Where a cover is found to be defective, a replacement cover will be supplied at a pro-rata cost, up to the warranty period at the time of purchase. The purchaser is required to pay for the time they have used the cover, and the company will pay for the shortfall between the failure of the cover and the end of the warranty period. The pro-rata period is on a monthly basis, on the suggested retail price at the time of claim. All fabrics can fade in colour and no warranty is given in relation to colour changes. The cover is not warranted against cuts, punctures, abrasions or any damage that has occurred through misuse or negligence, nor is it warranted against breakage.
